

Reynardo E. Brown

Reynardo Brown is a Branch Chief for the USDA Forest Service in Albuquerque, New Mexico. Reynardo is a graduate of the University of Arkansas Pine Bluff, where he received a Bachelor of Science in Accounting.

After graduation, he began his career in Russellville, AR as soon an accountant trainee for the USDA Forest Service. During his tenure in Russellville he served as Magazine Ranger District Business Manager and Short Term Internal Control Auditor for the Regional Office in Atlanta and Washington DC Office. In 2005, Reynardo was reassigned to the USDA Forest Service's Albuquerque Service Center.

In Albuquerque, he worked in various branches which exposed him to different aspects of the agency's operations ranging from payments, receivables, and financial statements. Reynardo's expertise has afforded him the opportunity to serve on various cadres for the agency and do a temporary assignment as the Southern Region's Regional Director of Budget and Financial Management in Atlanta, GA.